

SERTO Environmental Policy

Basic Approach

Since the foundation of SERTO AG we have been committed to the considerate use of natural resources, avoidance of unnecessary waste and emissions, rational use of energy and the continuous improvement of our environmental performance. Furthermore, we commit to uncompromising compliance with all of the binding obligations for SERTO AG and furthermore to environmental and energy-conscious action in all of the functional areas of our company.

Environmental Management System

To achieve our environmental objectives, we operate an effective and economical Environmental Management System in compliance with the relevant environmental standards. With this, we are a dependable partner for all stakeholder groups in the field of the environment. With periodic reviews by the company management, as well as by an independent inspection body, we ensure that the effectiveness and conformity of the Environmental Management System are maintained.

Organisation

With the organisation of our structures and procedures we specify the environmentally relevant responsibilities, remits and regulations in our company. The relevant documents are integrated into the existing document files in the Intranet.

Responsibility

Within their field of action, each employee contributes to the environmentally and energy conscious action of the company by their own attentiveness and responsible reflection. This obligation especially applies to the leadership responsibility of senior employees. The environmental awareness of all employees is promoted and maintained by means of suitable information and training.

Measures

By selecting suitable materials, auxiliary materials, production methods, production facilities, suppliers and employees, we ensure that all functional areas of the company make a contribution to the achievement of our environmental objectives.

Improvements

We maintain and improve the environmental performance of the company by regularly adapting the specified environmental objectives and by continuously improving the Environmental Management System.

Communication

As in every other area of the company, we use suitable means of communication to ensure that all of the necessary information is available to our employees at all times. All other stakeholder groups are informed of the outcome of our environmental activities whenever there is a need to do so.
